RAISE KIDS TO BE RESPECTFUL ADULTS

Let us teach our children how to behave at home and at school. We often forget that kids are not born with a built-in sense of respect for others.

While each child has a different personality, all children need to be respectful. People wonder why children are so disrespectful these days. We see them arguing with adults. As parents, our job is to coach kids to be able to function in the world, this means teaching them to behave respectfully towards others, not just us, their parents. The most effective way to teach kids respect is to model it ourselves. Our children may not thank us now or later, but that's okay. It's about doing the right thing.

STUDY TIPS FOR EXAMS

- Don't cram, manage your time.
- Organize all your study materials.
- Allow more time for difficult topics.
- Break study time into small chunks.
- Get enough sleep.
- Try practice exams and review them.
- Avoid distractions and stay POSITIVE!

GENERAL SAFETY TIPS

- Stranger danger – It's never a good idea to tell someone that you are home by yourself.
- Ensure that all doors and windows are locked. If you get home and the door is open or a window is smashed, don't peek inside, instead, go to a neighbour you trust for help.
- If someone knocks on the door do not open for anyone that you do not know. If there is an intercom system, ask parents to teach you how to use it and who to open for.
- Ask parents to create an evacuation plan with you in case there is an emergency at home.
- Do not share your holiday plans with anyone on social networks such as Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. Thieves can gain access to up-to-the-minute details through status updates and posts, allowing them to learn when the home is likely to be empty.
- Don't give your home address to any strangers or people you do not know well.
- Never go out to meet anyone that you have spoken to on any social networks.
- If you want to practice how to cook make sure you do it under adult supervision first, ask parents to go over the safety rules of the kitchen with you first.
- In case of an emergency, like a fire or a sibling getting hurt. It is important that you ask your parents to draw up an "in case of emergency" list. It should have your address and home phone number as well as your parent's numbers and work address. Also get trusted family members details.
- When going out with friends, try not to wander by yourself. Let your parents know where you will be at all times and arrange to be fetched and dropped off at a safe public place.
- If you are the mall always stay in groups. If someone tries to get you to leave with them, scream and make the people around you aware of what is happening.
